DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this

Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

1. Claims 1-3, 5-8, 12, 13, and 15-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Zhong (US 6,231,600).

Zhong discloses implantable medical devices, such as stents, having a first coating of TAXOL and a polymer and a second coating of heparin bonded to the first coating through a crosslinking agent (Column 1, lines 15-25). Substrates suitable for such coatings include plastics, metals, glass and ceramics (Column 3, lines 18-23). Examples of polymers used in the first coatings include polymethacrylates and polyacrylates (Column 3, lines 46). All limitations of claims 1-3, 5-8, 12, 13, and 15-18 are disclosed in the above reference.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this

Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hossainy et al. (US 6,926,919 B1).

Hossainy et al. disclose drug eluting vascular stents having a coating including a blend of a hydrophobic and hydrophilic polymer and treating the coating with a stimulus for enriching a region close to the outer surface of the coating with a hydrophilic polymer such that the region of the coating close to the outermost surface of the stent has a higher content of the hydrophilic component than the hydrophobic component (Column 2, lines 12-40). The coating further comprises an optional primer layer and an optional topcoat layer (Column 2, lines 42-60). Poly(ethylene-co-vinyl alcohol) is one example of a hydrophobic component and can be used to fabricate the topcoat or primer layers as well. Other examples include the list given in Columns 3 and 4. All limitations of claims 1-29 are recited in the above reference.
